Dynamiq and Studio F.A Porsche have teamed up to create this latest limited edition hybrid superyacht named the GTT 115 Hybrid which has all the sleek and sexy exterior styling that's characteristic of Porsche. At 35 metres in length, the GTT 115 Hybrid is fast for its size due to being manufactured out of lightweight aluminium. Powered by Twin 1213kW MAN engines with Fortjes 5000 pods, the yacht reaches top speeds of 21 knots, while a range of 3,400 nautical miles means crossing the Atlantic and many other bodies of water is within the GT115 Hybrid's reach. Twin 45kW Fischer Panda variable-speed generators also allow for the utmost in comfort and quietness while anchored or moored. The GTT 115 Hybrid features three- or four-cabin interiors with Italian furniture designed by Minotti. The limited edition superyacht will see only seven units being made, and comes in Porsche's signature Carrera White exterior. You could also opt for the Targa-style mullions and transom design from the Mission E concept. Priced at €11.9 million (approx. $13.9 million), the GT 115 will be officially unveiled at the 2017 Monaco Yacht Show with the first delivery also available in September.
