Dynamiq Yachts with a Pinch of Porche

Taking the spirit of high-performance sports car styling to the high seas, the Dynamiq GTT 115 is designed to appeal to car lovers and forward-thinking yacht owners who appreciate the advantages of speed, style and our philosophy of intelligent performance.

Yacht builder Dynamiq has joined forces with Studio F.A. Porsche to create an exclusive series of all-aluminium superyachts imbued with the Porsche DNA.

The first 35metre GTT 115 Hybrid is already under construction in Viareggio, Italy, with two smaller models in development that will be presented later this year.

The sporty exterior design by Studio F.A. Porsche matches the yacht's noteworthy performance, and the name says it all: GTT stands for Grand Turismo Transatlantic.

Two world leaders in hydrodynamics, both from the Netherlands, were commissioned to create efficient hulls for the new series.

Vripack have developed the hull lines of the GTT 115, while Van Oossanen is responsible for the naval architecture of the GTT 100 and GTT 85 models.

The first in the series, features a round bilge aluminium hull and a specially engineered stabilisation system from Humphree with four electric fins and interceptors.

Powered by twin 1213kW MAN engines paired with the latest Fortjes 5000 pods, the versatile superyacht can exceed a maximum speed of 21 knots and is capable of crossing the Atlantic with a range of 3,400nm.

With a shallow draught of just 1.45 metres, the yacht is ideal for the Mediterranean, Caribbean or Southeast Asia.

An optional hybrid power system is available. Other technical features include two technical compartments or engine rooms, with twin 45kW Fischer Panda variable-speed generators located in the bow. This layout ensures a silent ambience at night and avoids smoke and fumes at anchor while the owner and guests are swimming or sunbathing on the aft platform.

Available in the signature Porsche Carrara white, Rhodium Silver, Chalk or custom Monte-Carlo Blue exterior colours, the yacht boasts Porsche elements, such as the Targa-style mullions or the transom design that echoes the Mission E concept. The deck cushions feature fabric centres with a classic Pepita houndstooth pattern, similar to the latest 991 R edition.

On the inside, the sporty yet refined interior features three or four luxury cabins with Saddle brown and Luxor beige leather with carbon fibre details, and expansive surfaces of Sahara Noir marble. The furniture and decoration were developed in association with the Italian designer brand Minotti.

The yacht will accommodate six guests in three cabins served by a six man crew

A limited edition of just seven GTT 115 yachts will be manufactured, making the model a truly unique collector's edition. Prices start from €11,900,000, with a short delivery time of 15 months from the date of order. The first yacht is available for sale with delivery in September 2017. Her world debut will take place at the 2017 Monaco Yacht Show and the yacht will attend subsequent international events.
