Dynamiq has revealed the brand's latest project, a wonderful 39-meter superyacht called Jetsetter that will be part of the shipyard's D4 range. Starting off at a cool $15.64 million, this exciting vessel will be powered by MAN diesels, with Fortjes pods, allowing it to reach a top speed of 21 knots.

The first of its kind, this yacht will be part of the Gran Turismo

Transatlantic range, and a series that will include three models, the D4, D4S and D4L, that can be customized through an online configurator by every potential client.

The first Dynamiq D4 39 super yacht will take part in the 2016 Monaco Yacht Show, offering us a glimpse of what's to come. Dutch naval architects Azure were in charge of designing the hull of Dynamiq D4 39, with further optimizing done by hydrodynamic specialists Van Oossanen.

In terms of interiors, the London-based design studio Bannenberg & Rowell has imagined them and will be in charge of transforming them into reality. This D4 yacht will boast a welcoming atmosphere, featuring exquisite materials and amenities from renowned brands like Hermès, Loro Piana, Louis Vuitton, and Armani/Casa.

Future owners of one of these beauties will surely appreciate the bespoke Acqua di Parma “atomizer system” that scents the air moving through the air-conditioning system, thus refreshing the air every hour.

Jetsetter was designed as a fast family cruiser, with a shallow draught of only 1.7 meters that makes it ideal for cruises on the Mediterranean, Caribbean or Asian islands. All that’s left right now is to pay for the vessel and establish a course to your favorite destination.
