The Italian shipyard Dynamiq Yachts have completed the build of the 41-metre superyacht, Stefania, the second hull of the builders GTT 135 series. With her golden hull shining, the superyacht underwent sea trials in February, and now her interior styling by Giuseppina Arena has been finished at the company's shipyard in Massa, Tuscany.

The superyacht features exterior design from Dobroserdov Design studio with a standout hull palette, finished in metallic gold and dark brown. She has a reverse bow which gives her a fresh look, and her fast displacement hull from Van Oossanen offers her smooth movement through the water and excellent efficiency. Stefania has an impressive 5,000 nautical mile range at 10 knots, reaching top speeds of 21 knots, consuming only 50 litres per hour at 10 knots.

Her impressive range will allow her owners to cruise world-wide and coupled with her shallow draft of 1.8-metres, Stefania will be able to access more cruising grounds than many vessels in her class.

"Stefania is the evolution of our full-aluminium Gran Turismo Transatlantic concept and represents everything you would expect in a medium-sized product from a boutique family shipyard: exclusive looks, advanced technologies and attention to detail," says Dynamiq founder Sergei Dobroserdov. "The basis of the GTT 135 is the lightweight full aluminium hull, but every element has been perfected, from the top-notch soundproofing components by Dutch experts Rubber Design, including a torque compensation system for the gearboxes, to the Bowers & Wilkins hi-end sound system. We are happy to state after the sea trials how her many technical innovations take performance and comfort to the next level."

Internally, the superyacht Stefania has a five stateroom layout, with an Art-Deco style by the Miami-based industry veteran Arena. Standout features include bespoke carpets, mother of pearl detailing, a fireplace in the main saloon and an impressive 2.2-metre ceiling height throughout.

On deck, Stefania has a generous aft pool and a 120 square-metre sundeck, with a Jacuzzi to fore and a semi al fresco dining area to aft. Her wheelhouse has been designed by Klassen.
